Dear Mr. Illgner

The only decision that is more important than how you invest is who will handle that investment.

Welcome to Artemis Financial, where we appreciate that any investment our clients may undertake begins with an investment in us, our integrity and our ethics. We are committed to earning your trust and providing the superior standards of service and performance that you expect.

Your Artemis Financial advisor, with the aid of our world-class research tools, up to the minute market analysis and value added investment resources, will provide you with customized, objective advice as well as help you to build and manage your wealth through investment strategies tailored to your ambitions and risk tolerance.

Artemis Financial strives to deliver unprecedented value. With some of the lowest commissions in the industry, along with our application of advanced strategies and technologies, Artemis Financial has become a market leader in value. Customer satisfaction is the foundation of our success and we will continue to offer the financial products and services that bring the most value to our customers.
